

The closest storage facilities will be at least one-half mile from mining operation.